Greenwich first to welcome Olympic torch

WOW: pupils from Thorntree primary school in Charlton are so excited to be holding an Olympic torch

GREENWICH will be the first London borough to receive the Olympic Torch when it arrives in London next July.

It will visit the Prime Meridian Line in Greenwich on July 21 as it starts its tour of the capital - the last leg of its relay journey around the UK.

It means residents will be able to welcome the Olympic Flame and share in the excitement the relay will bring, as well as celebrate the achievements of the Torchbearers.

It's a further highlight to a spectacular year for the borough, which becomes the Royal Borough of Greenwich on January 3.

Greenwich is the largest Olympic and Paralympic venue outside the Olympic Park itself and is hosting 34 events in nine sports during the London Olympic and Paralympic Games. This includes the equestrian events and modern pentathlon at Greenwich Park, gymnastics and the basketball finals at the Greenwich Arena and the shooting events at Woolwich Barracks.

In my opinion

Support our 25th anniversary
campaign

THIS year Greenwich & Bexley Community Hospice is celebrating 25 years of the charity. In my role as chief executive of the hospice I am proud to be leading this organisation at this special time and as we reach out further into the community and extend our services to more people who need them.

Over the years, the hospice has grown from a small organisation delivering inpatient and day care to a relatively small number of patients, to an organisation which provides care to people with any life limiting illness wherever it is needed, at home, in care homes, in hospital and in the hospice. We now provide specialist free care and support to over 2,500 people and their families across the two boroughs. Our most recent development (delivered as a partnership between the hospice, Marie Curie Cancer Care and Greenwich Community Health Services) provides fully integrated care for people at the end of life in their own homes around the clock and includes personal care, a rapid response nursing service and night sitting services for those who need it. To celebrate the 25th anniversary of the charity, the hospice has launched a campaign to encourage local people to do what they can to support the hospice nurses and is aiming to raise £500,000 to help fund its expert team, who care for dying people and their families. With just 35 per cent of its funding coming from the government, the hospice relies on the support of the community now more than ever before to continue its work. We hope that you will be able to support the hospice in our mission to give quality care and support to dying people from our local community and their families. To find out more about our "Supporting our Nurses: Securing our Future" campaign please contact Rachel Williams on 020 8319 9230 or on email rachelwilliams@gbch.org.uk, or visit the hospice website www.communityhospice.org.uk

Books galore at Amnesty's annual sale

THE Blackheath and Greenwich Group of Amnesty International is holding its annual fund-raising book sale on Saturday, November 19, at the Church of the Ascension, Dartmouth Row, Greenwich, from 10am. The local group has collected thousands of books from a variety of sources, including publishers and book reviewers as well as individual donors. The quality of books - many of which are brand new - is exceptionally high, and there will be plenty of bargains to be found, from second-hand paperbacks to review copies of recently-published novels. The book sale - now in its 37th year - is established as Amnesty International's most successful local fundraising event in the UK, raising over £200,000 over the years. Amnesty works worldwide for the release of prisoners of conscience, fair trials for political prisoners and an end to torture, extrajudicial executions, disappearances and the death penalty. The Blackheath and Greenwich group has campaigned on Human Rights in China and stopping violence against women and meets at 8pm on the second Tuesday of each month at St. Margaret's Church, Lee Terrace, Blackheath. Details on 07823 322871.

DESIGNER CHILDREN: Greenwich Mayor Jim Gillman and council leader Chris Roberts join LOCOC chair Lord Seb Coe in praising one of the designers, Brandon Amankrah

Jump to it!

Greenwich children help to design Olympic equestrian fence

ONE of the 40 jumps in next year's Olympic Equestrian cross country course will be dedicated to Greenwich - and Greenwich schoolchildren have helped to design it.

The children showed off their design ideas to Seb Coe, chair of the London 2012 Organising Committee (LOCOC), Greenwich Council Chris Roberts and Mayor of Greenwich Jim Gillman.

And all three were delighted with the results. Cllr Roberts told GT: "When it was announced that Greenwich Park would host the cross country event we asked LOCOC if there could be a Greenwich jump and if it could be designed by our children, so I'm really happy so many have taken part in this competition and we've had so many fantastic design ideas submitted."

"The images from this event will be some of the most memorable of the Games, watched by billions around the world, and they will see and remember a jump designed by Greenwich school children."

The schools going forward to work with Ravensbourne on the project are Alderwood, Invicta and Timbercroft primary schools and The John Roan secondary school. Their five design ideas are the Thames Barrier, Old Royal Naval College, Royal Observatory, The O2 and Cutty Sark.

The area around the jumps, known as the jump zones, will be themed using national or London landmarks.

After attending a workshop in June, 117 designs were sent in from 19 schools across the borough. Nightingale, the first school to join LOCOC's Get Set Network, worked on a joint design idea using the Thames Barrier.

Aminata, aged nine, said: "I went to the test event with my school and remember the horses jumping. They had to go so high."

Ten-year-old Reece Page from Wyborne said: "We looked at pictures on the internet to get ideas and going to the test event was brilliant. I found a picture of the Queen's House and wanted to use that. I'd be really proud if I saw my design on TV. I'd be shouting at my mum to come and look at it."

Seb Coe said: "It's a pleasure to be part of the judging panel. I would like to congratulate Greenwich for being the first borough to get 100 per cent of their maintained schools to join our Get Set network."

"As a result, these schools were offered tickets to the Greenwich Park test events and many got to see the cross country course. They have obviously been inspired by this opportunity and I look forward to seeing the children's winning ideas incorporated into the course for next year."

He told the children that about four billion people from around the world would be watching the event next year, before presenting them with their certificates for taking part.

A judging panel selected the final five winning design ideas. Lord Coe, Cllr Roberts, Layton Reid, Course Leader for Interior Design, Environment & Architecture at Ravensbourne and Freya Miller, Chair of the Greenwich Young People's Council made up the panel.

The young artists whose work was chosen will get a fantastic opportunity to work with architectural students at Ravensbourne, one of the world's leading digital media and design colleges located next to The O2.

DON'T FORGET TO RECYCLE YOUR COPY OF GREENWICH TIME

On top of the world

by Dick Townsend-Smith

GREENWICH'S listing as one of the top ten global destinations for 2012 could boost the local economy by creating new jobs and business opportunities for local people.

Greenwich was the only place in the UK to make the shortlist of the world's top spots which were published by the travel guide Frommer's last week.

Tourism is already worth £774 million to the local economy and is a major source of employment providing 8,000 jobs locally.

The top 10 billing looks set to bring more employment to the area. The achievement reflects what will be a unique year for Greenwich and it's hoped it will help to attract even more visitors to the borough next year.

Businesses that are already gearing up for an increase in trade thanks to visitors for the London Olympic and Paralympic Games, have warmly welcomed the travel guide's endorsement.

Clive Barker, president of the South East London Chamber of Commerce, said: "We are already expecting business to boom in 2012, and this endorsement for Greenwich from Frommer's is yet another confirmation that we will have an unprecedented year of trading."

Dr Kevin Fewster, Chair of the Maritime Greenwich World Heritage Site executive group, welcomed the recognition from Frommer's.

He said: "This is a great accolade which recognises the many attractions that Greenwich has to offer, as well as our magnificent world heritage site setting. It is particularly appropriate in light of the exciting times ahead in 2012 when Greenwich becomes a Royal Borough and Greenwich Park hosts the Olympic equestrian and modern pentathlon events. 2012 will also see the re-opening of the Cutty Sark and the launch of the National Maritime Museum's programme of blockbuster exhibitions, starting with 'Royal River' in April."

JEWELS IN THE CROWN: the Old Royal Naval College

Greenwich Council has been overseeing a number of initiatives to ensure local people and businesses are prepared to fill the new jobs that will be created as a result of events in 2012.

The council has been working closely with the De Vere Academy of Hospitality at Devonport House in Greenwich town centre. Run by the De Vere hotel chain, it offers formal apprenticeships leading to qualifications in customer service and professional cookery. It also works with other local partners including the Greenwich Catering and Hospitality Skills Centre, at Charlton Athletic Football Club stadium.

Cllr Denise Hyland, the council's cabinet member for regeneration, enterprise and skills, said: "Catering and hospitality are key sectors here in Greenwich. We lead a number of initiatives to equip local people with skills and training to help them into work. Greenwich Local Labour and Business (GLLAB), the council's agency which supports people into training and jobs, works closely with De Vere to recruit local apprentices to the academy.

"They have a bright future ahead as the eyes of the world focus on Greenwich next year, and the additional publicity from the Frommer's recommendation will lead to even more job opportunities for those graduating."

First to get 2012 torch

A high-profile programme of cultural activities will take place throughout the year, with local schools, arts groups and community organisations playing a key role. And the council is appealing for artists and performers who would like to take part.

Cllr John Fahy, Greenwich Council's cabinet member for culture and Olympics, said: "Greenwich is delighted to be the first London borough to see the Olympic Flame and witness the fantastic spectacle of the Olympic Torch Relay. It will provide a unique chance for Greenwich residents to share in the excitement of the Olympic spirit - to mark the countdown to the start of the 2012 Games. It will also be an opportunity to support those courageous Torchbearers who have been chosen to run with the Olympic Flame. I would personally like to encourage as many people as possible to be part of this rare occasion and celebrate the cultural events on offer leading up to and during the Games."

Sebastian Coe, Chair of LOCOG said: "We are thrilled to confirm that Greenwich will act as a host location for the Olympic Flame on July 21, extending an invitation to people across the borough to welcome the Olympic Torch Relay during its journey around the UK. This is the UK's moment to shine and I want to encourage people across Greenwich to start planning how they can be part of this once in a lifetime opportunity and show their support for the inspirational Torchbearers chosen to carry the Olympic Flame as we count down to the start of the Olympic Games."

The Games and its Cultural Olympiad are a great chance for local people to get involved in the cultural vibrancy of Greenwich. A cultural festival is set to animate the borough's streets and open spaces, attracting thousands more visitors before, during and after the Games.

The council wants to hear from local artists and community groups providing the following:

- Dance,
- Street theatre
- Music or singing
- Acrobatics
- Magic or illusions
- Comedy

A new blueprint

Fashion store makes a fresh start after riots

by Dan Stephens

IT was one of the worst hit businesses in the August disorder, but now Woolwich's Blue Inc is well and truly back in business after moving to new premises.

The clothes shop reopened three weeks ago just a few doors down from its old base on Powis Street.

And business is booming, says the store's assistant manager, Mehmet Alptekin.

"Takings have been even better than this time last year, so it looks like the high street is getting back to normal," he told GT.

The shop was looted and torched by arsonists on August 8 when Woolwich was faced with the same scenes of criminality and violence as the rest of the capital.

But since that day, local businesses and the council have been working hard to reverse the impact of the damage.

Twenty-two-year-old Mehmet was appalled by the scenes that led to the destruction of the original shop.

He said: "I had been working there for four years so when I saw photos of the fire it started to sink in what had happened and how it was going to impact us."

"But from the start it was clear that our head office wanted to stay in Woolwich."

The new shop is bigger than the old one, which has allowed the entrepreneurial owners to branch out into a women's

Twenty-year-old shop assistant Hulya Oguz added: "The new shop is even better than the old one – there's more space, more variety and it's great to have the new women's section."

In staying in Woolwich, Blue Inc was able to hold on to all its staff and they were able to return to Powis Street, a matter of weeks after the original shop floor was looted and gutted by fire.

Customer Ken Omoregie said: "I'm very glad Blue Inc has reopened. The new shop is really nice – much bigger and it's got all the latest gear."

The clothes outlet was able to open its doors in time to be part of Greenwich Council's Back to Woolwich Business Week, which saw small independent businesses working alongside local branches of national names in a bid to bring in the customers.

Cllr Denise Hyland, cabinet member for regeneration, enterprise and skills said: "Blue Inc has recovered from the terrible scenes of arson in impressively fast time. It's fantastic that they took the opportunity to stay in Powis Street and will no doubt add to the vibrancy of the High Street in the future."

"I'm proud of the way Woolwich as a whole has bounced back from the damage caused by the disorder."

"Schemes like the High Street Recovery Fund and Back to Business Week have helped communities affected. Local businesses have Greenwich council's continued support in the recovery process."

Borough places for cross country winners

FOUR hundred and forty-one runners finished the Greenwich secondary schools' cross-country championships at Avery Hill Park, Eltham. The top five finishers in each race got invitations to represent Greenwich in the London Youth Games on Saturday, November 19, and the top 10 Year 7 and 8 runners will be invited to do some training with local club Cambridge Harriers with a view to competing in the London Schools championships next March.

REMEMBRANCE DAY IS ON NOVEMBER 11. WREATHS ARE BEING LAID AT LOCAL MEMORIALS AND SILENCES BEING OBSERVED TO ENSURE THAT OUR WAR HEROES ARE...

Never forgotten

A TWO-MINUTE silence will be observed at 11.00am on Friday, November 11 at Woolwich Town Hall in memory of those who fought and died or were injured in the causes of peace and freedom.

The event is open to the public, as are all the other Remembrance events across the borough. On Saturday, November 12 there is a wreath-laying ceremony organised by the Royal British Legion at the memorial at Maze Hill, SE3, before moving on to St. John's Church, Stratheden Road, SE3, and then the memorials in Charlton Village and Cemetery Lane.

Remembrance is marked in Plumstead on November 12 by the Abbey Wood and Thamesmead British Legion who are laying a wreath at the memorial in Plumstead Cemetery on Cemetery Road at 11am before paying respects at the memorial in Woolwich New Cemetery, Camdale Road.

A parade of war veterans, ex-service groups and youth organisations will be placing a wreath at Eltham War Memorial on Sunday, November 13 at 10.45 with a two-minute silence at 11am.

Also on Sunday at 10.30am, St Michael and All Angels Church in Abbey Wood observes a ceremony.

A taste of history for kids

TIME TO EVACUATE THE CITY: Haimo schoolchildren get name tags

SCHOOLCHILDREN got a real taste of what their grandparents went through during the blitz of the Second World War, writes Dick Townsend-Smith.

Pupils from Haimo Primary School in Eltham took it in turns to experience life in a cramped Anderson shelter during the blackout, at the Firepower museum in Woolwich, as German bombs rained down.

The visit was hosted by Firepower education officer Steve Hookins, who was dressed as a air raid warden. He said: "We were trying to give them an idea of what people in the local area went through every night for two-and-a-half months. We told them about the civilian defence force, showed them a film, and put them in an Anderson shelter by candlelight, while playing a soundtrack of an air raid going on."

Teacher Tracey Cardigan added: "The children absolutely loved it. They had done work on Anderson shelters, and getting into one made it all more real – they thought they were much larger than they actually are."

"Steve told them all about how the war started, and they tried on different army uniforms from both the war and now. The children voted it the best trip they had ever been on."

● CHILDREN from Foxfield primary school, Plumstead, will be laying a wreath at Firepower on Remembrance Day.

Did you know the Charlton hero who died on D-Day?

by Carin Suggate

AN appeal has been launched to find the relatives of a Charlton war hero who lost his life on D-Day in 1944.

Leonard G Welsh was among a 13-man crew who perished on board LCT 427, a landing craft which sank more than a half a century ago in the Solent.

Tragically, the boat was just four miles from home, having successfully dodged the bullets, shrapnel and bombs while offloading tanks on the other side of the Channel.

Only one body was recovered from the wreck. The remaining 12 were officially listed as missing presumed dead.

Leonard, who was just 24 years old when he died, was a private and a mechanic. The boat sunk in a collision with a British battleship on the way back from the landings on June 6 1944.

In the face of so much sacrifice, the men became forgotten heroes. But now the British Sub-Aqua Club - which uncovered the wreck wants to highlight their role on one of the most important days in history.

Alison Mayor led the team of divers and is keen to ensure that these men risked their lives transporting equipment to Normandy will never be forgotten. She said: "The wreck site is much more than an important historical site, it is the final resting place of 12 brave men who made the ultimate sacrifice for their country, and in very tragic circumstances. We have therefore been extremely careful to treat the find with the dignity and respect it deserves."

The remainder of the missing crew were named as Frederick B Alexander, Hallam Carr, William A Dawe, Eric Fields, Frank Freeman, Alfred W. Girard, James Graham, George Guthrie, Albert E. Johnson, David Spillane and Joseph W Whitfield.

Leonard's army no. was P/JX 426606. Did you know him? Perhaps you served with him or were part of his extended family.

● If you can help, please contact Alison on 07740 873 255 or the association archivist Tony Chapman on 011629 20160, or go to www.southseasubaclub.org.uk

Telling stories for Black History Month

THE borough's youngest citizens enjoyed storytelling and drumming as part of their celebrations for Black History Month.

There was also dressing up, singing and dancing as well as fabulous foods to try out. The events at a children's centre and creche were among dozens of happenings organised to celebrate the contributions of Greenwich's African, Asian and Caribbean communities to the borough.

Families at Brookhill Children's Centre enjoyed a week of special activities at the centre in Brookhill Road, Woolwich, where they learned about Afro-Caribbean culture through fun activities. There were talks about North, West and South Africa as well as Jamaica with storytelling, dancing and drumming sessions. Youngsters had a chance to make musical instruments and masks and to dress up as African kings and queens for a grand finale party.

Over at the Springfield crèche in Springfield Grove, Charlton, about 120 children and their families attended a West African story telling and drumming event led by professional storytellers, 'Whippersnappers.' Youngsters dressed up in bright animal costumes and helped act out parts of the story to bring it to life. Afterwards, children had a chance to beat out their own rhythms on African drums and sing along to African songs. The event was hosted by Charlton Triangle Homes, which manages 1,000 homes in the Charlton Triangle area, to mark Black History Month and to celebrate the many cultures living within the Charlton Triangle community. Dorothy Samuels, co-ordinator of the creche on the ground floor of Langhorne House, said: "We had a fantastic turnout with so many cultures coming together and united as one."

Five-year unbeaten run

SHOCK of shocks - Greenwich failed to finish first in the annual Club Wellness Games 2011 at Brixton Recreation Centre on Friday, October 14.

The borough stars - unbeaten winners for the previous five years - had to accept second place after a thrilling battle with Epsom and Ewell over the nine sporting events.

The annual event is run by the charitable social enterprise Greenwich Leisure Limited (GLL) and aims to encourage older people to become more active and highlight the social and physical benefits of sporting activities.

Participants took part in nine events ranging from badminton, short tennis, swimming, timed cycle, dominoes, darts and short and long mat bowls.

The teams hailed from the London boroughs of Barnet, Camden, Greenwich, Ealing, Lambeth, Hammersmith and Fulham, Harrow, Hillingdon, Hackney, Merton, Newham, Tower Hamlets, Westminster, Waltham Forest, Epsom and Ewell as well as the Crystal Palace national sports centre and Rivermead Leisure Centre in Reading.

Greenwich, who won the timed swimming event - the team including former mayor Barbara Barwick - and darts events, finished a close second to Epsom and Ewell with Tower Hamlets in third place.

Tessa Jowell MP, shadow minister for the Olympics, opened the event and Coronation Street star Beverly Callard - who plays Liz McDonald - spoke to competitors and presented awards.

The event was also attended

SECOND BUT STILL CHEERING: the Greenwich team celebrates taking part in the Club Wellness Games at Brixton Recreation Centre

by Mayor of Greenwich Jim Gillman and Mayoress Janet Gillman.

The Mayor told GT: "It was great to see so many older people involved in sporting competition and so obviously enjoying it. After Greenwich winning for five years in row, it was good to see another borough take the title - but they have only borrowed the trophy!"

Organiser Carolyn Myring said: This has been by far the largest games and what is great is that anyone can take part regardless of their skill or ability. All that's needed is for competitors to be over the age of 55."

Greenwich Council

Closure of Blackheath Bluecoat Church of England (Voluntary Aided) Secondary School- DfE no. 2034715

Notice is given in accordance with section 15 (1) of the Education and Inspections Act 2006 that Greenwich Council, being the Local Authority for the area, proposes to discontinue Blackheath Bluecoat Church of England (Voluntary Aided) Secondary School, Old Dover Road, London SE3 8SY.

Implementation

It is intended that this proposal should be implemented from 31 August 2013. If agreed, there will follow a phased closure with:

- No recruitment to Year 7 or Year 12 in September 2012;
- Pupils now in Years 7, 8, 9 would transfer to alternative schools at the end of the current school year in July 2012;
- Pupils in Year 11 would move into Post 16 provision elsewhere;
- Pupils in Year 10 and Year 12 would stay at the school in 2012/13 to complete their Key Stage and leave the school in July 2013.

Consultation

This Notice is published following consultation with interested parties in accordance with statutory requirements and guidance published by the Secretary of State for the Department for Education.

Displaced Pupils

If the decision is made to close Blackheath Bluecoat CE School, all parents/carers who have a child on roll in the current Years 7, 8 and 9 at the school would be contacted during the Spring term and asked to indicate a preference for alternative schools in Greenwich and/or in other boroughs. This would be a managed process so that all children and their families are treated equally. As far as possible, the Local Authority would match offers to preferences expressed, although we cannot guarantee that it would be possible to offer a place at a preferred school. However, there are sufficient places in other Greenwich schools to accommodate all pupils, irrespective of their home address. There is also spare capacity in some schools in neighbouring boroughs.

Special Educational Needs

The resources for supporting pupils with identified special or additional needs will transfer with the pupils to their new schools.

Travel

In view of the number of local schools with available places, it is not expected that the change would require pupils to have unreasonably extended journeys to alternative schools. Some parents may, however, wish to opt for an alternative denominational school that would involve a longer journey.

Within six weeks after the date of publication of these proposals, (i.e. up until 20th December 2011) any person may object to or make comments on the proposal by sending the representations to:

Sonal Mistry
Greenwich Children's Services
Strategic Projects
3rd Floor, The Woolwich Centre
35 Wellington Street,
London. SE18 6HQ.

This Notice is an extract from the complete proposal. Copies of the complete proposal can be obtained from Sonal Mistry, at the address given above.

Within one month after the end of the representation period, the Council will consider all the representations made (and not withdrawn in writing) within the representation period and will determine the proposal.

Greenwich Council Proposed Enlargement and Increase in the Planned Admission Number of Discovery Primary School, a Maintained Community School

Notice is given in accordance with section 19(1) of the Education and Inspections Act 2006, that Greenwich Council intends to make a prescribed alteration to Discovery Primary School, Battery Road, Thamesmead, London SE28 6JH, a maintained community school, with effect from 01 September 2012.

It is proposed to expand the school by the provision of additional accommodation on a new site off Battery Road near the current school site and an increase in the planned admission number for each year group aged 4-11 from 60 places currently, to 90 places with effect from the 2012/13 school year intake. The admission number will increase to 90 for the Reception Year and Year 1 in 2012/13, for Year 2 in 2013/14, and so on until 2017/18, when the admission number for all year groups will be 90.

The admission capacity of the school for children aged 4-11 is currently 420 places and the proposed admission capacity will be 438 places. There are 304 pupils aged 4-11 currently registered at the school.

The proposal, if agreed, will be implemented by the Council.

This Notice is an extract from the complete proposal and is published following consultations with interested parties in the areas served by the school in October 2011. Copies of the complete proposal can be obtained from the Headteacher, by email request to sanal.mistry@greenwich.gov.uk or by telephone on 0208 921 4787.

Within four weeks from the date of publication of these proposals, any person may object to or make comments on the proposals by letter or email to:

Explanatory Notes

1. Within two months after the end of the representation period, Greenwich Council will consider all the representations made within the representation period and the Governors' comments on them and will determine the proposal.
2. The additional accommodation and facilities for the enlarged school would be provided on a site already identified close to the school off Battery Road.
3. The admissions arrangements for the school will remain the same and the school will operate as one school on two sites with the same identity, management, ethos, standards and resources. It will be for the governors and management of the school to decide how the school is organised across the two sites.
4. The governors of the school agreed to a temporary increase from 60 to 90 in the planned admission number for the September 2011 Reception Class intake and this proposal is seeking to apply the changes across all year groups.

Greenwich Council Proposed Enlargement and Increase in the Planned Admission Number of Halstow Primary School, a Maintained Community School

Notice is given in accordance with section 19(1) of the Education and Inspections Act 2006 that Greenwich Council intends to make a prescribed alteration to Halstow Primary School, Halstow Road, London, SE10 0LD, a maintained community school, with effect from 01 September 2012.

It is proposed to expand the school by the enlargement of the accommodation and an increase in the planned admission number for each year group aged 4-11 from 45 places currently, to 60 places with effect from the 2012/13 school year intake. The admission number will increase to 60 for the Reception Year in 2012/13, for Year 1 in 2013/14, and so on until 2018/19 when the admission number for all year groups will be 60.

The admission capacity of the school for children aged 4-11 is currently 315 places and the proposed admission capacity will be 428 places. There are 304 pupils aged 4-11 currently registered at the school.

The proposal, if agreed, will be implemented by the Council.

This Notice is an extract from the complete proposal and is published following consultations with interested parties in the areas served by the school in October 2011. Copies of the complete proposal can be obtained from the Headteacher, by email request to sanal.mistry@greenwich.gov.uk or by telephone on 0208 921 4787.

Greenwich Millennium Village - Phases 3, 4 and 5 Local Exhibition - Saturday 12th and Tuesday 15th November 2011

Greenwich Millennium Village Ltd (GMVL) invite you to attend a local exhibition of the proposals for the future phases of Greenwich Millennium Village (GMV).

Following a series of local exhibitions (held on 19, 21 and 25 May), in which our initial scheme was presented, the design has been progressed and we would like to share with you our latest proposals.

A planning application, which will comprise up to 1,746 homes together with commercial and community buildings, will be submitted to Greenwich Council later this month. We believe that the new masterplan reinforces the principles of an inclusive and sustainable community - and will create an exemplar scheme on a 'humanscale'.

The local exhibition will be held at the GMV 'Visitors' Centre located in Mauner Court (along Teal Street - near the northern end of John Harrison Way) on the following dates:

- Saturday 12 November between 11:00am and 2:00pm
- Tuesday 15 November between 5:00pm and 9:00pm

This will provide an opportunity for you to view and discuss the proposals prior to the formal submission of a planning application. We hope that you will be able to attend and we look forward to discussing our proposal with you.

A joint venture development between Countryside Properties Plc and Taylor Wimpey in association with the Homes and Communities Agency.

Olympic traffic:

Plans are being discussed to re-route the traffic flow around Greenwich Paralympic Games. Now borough residents are being asked to say what LOCOG, the London Organising Committee for the Olympic Games, recently revealed their ideas for managing Greenwich Town Centre traffic during next year's tournament. Locals had a chance to find out more at a series of drop-in sessions held over three days in the town centre last month.

Now, Greenwich Council wants to open up the debate even further, and is urging residents to have their say on Locog's plans by visiting www.tinyurl.com/3zpl75g

The council has been working closely with Locog on plans to keep Greenwich town centre moving during Games time which will run from July 27 to September 12, and has won several important changes to the plans ensuring residents and businesses do not lose out.

In Greenwich town centre the pressure on local roads and public transport will peak and trough according to events in Greenwich Park but visitor numbers are expected to be at their highest for the Olympic cross country event on July 30.

Council leader Chris Roberts, told GT: "The scale of planning required to host the 2012 Games in Greenwich is immense. On one hand, we must ensure that Olympians, organisers

▶ We must do everything possible to minimise disruption to businesses and the people who live and work here and spectators can get in and out of the town efficiently and safely. On the other, we must do everything possible to minimise disruption to businesses and the people who live and work here. That's why we want people to give their views now, so we have plenty of time to get things right for this once-in-a-lifetime spectacle. Please visit the Locog website, and tell us what you think."

TRAVELLING IN TOWN: proposals to re-route traffic in Greenwich Town Centre are being discussed

What happens next

THE council's Planning Board is due to consider all of LOCOG's Games-time traffic and parking plans for the borough when it meets during December and January. Following this informal consultation stage there will be formal statutory consultation which will help to decide what traffic management orders will be required.

The final decision on Locog's proposals does not rest with Greenwich Council, and the council is urging as many local people as possible to feed in their views in order to help shape the plans. If you would like to make any comments on any of the above points, please email traffic.management@greenwich.gov.uk or write to GT Traffic Consultation, Town Hall, Wellington Street, London SE18 6PW before November 30.

TFL/LOCOG proposals for Games Time

- 1 Temporary widening of pavements on Greenwich High Road and College Approach to accommodate people walking to the local venues
- 2 Pedestrianisation of Greenwich Church Street
- 3 Temporary one-way system to accommodate pedestrian access
- 4 No vehicle access to Straightsmouth
- 5 Re-routing of bus services
- 6 Taxi ranks proposed for Eastney Street and Old Woolwich Road
- 7 Removal of parking in Park Row (north of Romney Road)

Greenwich during next year's Olympic and they think about the proposals...

Greenwich Council's initial view	Who makes the decision? The Council's Planning Board will comment upon all the proposals, but the final decision will be taken by the following parties
1 We understand the need for the temporary widening in Greenwich High Road and College Approach	1 The Olympic Act gives TfL/LOCOG power to impose this upon the Council
2 We understand the logic of pedestrianising Greenwich Church Street	2 The Olympic Act gives TfL/LOCOG power to impose this upon the Council
3 We understand that the temporary pedestrianisation proposals require this system	3 The Olympic Act gives TfL/LOCOG power to impose this upon the Council
4 The case has not been fully made for Straightsmouth and the proposals require detailed local engagement	4 The Olympic Act gives TfL/LOCOG power to impose this upon the Council
5 We accept the temporary pedestrianisation proposals require re-routing of bus services	5 The Olympic Act gives TfL/LOCOG power to impose this upon the Council
6 We believe that the temporary one way system creates a vacant lane for taxis in Creek Road to avoid the need for this proposal	6 The Olympic Act gives TfL/LOCOG power to impose this upon the Council
7 The case has not been made for the removal of parking in Park Row	7 The Olympic Act gives TfL/LOCOG power to impose this upon the Council
8 We are concerned that the £200 fine (discounted to £100 if paid within 14 days) is a potentially insufficient deterrent to protect local businesses	8 The level of fines will be set by London Councils. Greenwich has one of 33 votes
9 We believe this requires discussion with relevant local residents	9 The Olympic Act gives TfL/LOCOG power to impose this upon the Council
10 The case has not been made for the removal of the parking bays	10 The Olympic Act gives TfL/LOCOG power to impose this upon the Council

London walkers asked to make every step count for Cancer Research UK

ADVERTORIAL

THE THOUSANDS of men and women who took part in Cancer Research UK's unique night-time walking event are being urged to step forward with their sponsorship money.

Organisers of Cancer Research UK's Shine London are saying a heart-felt 'thanks' to everyone who took part in the event, which was held for the first time at the start of October.

And they are asking them to make all the fun and emotion of the big night count – by returning money they've raised to Cancer Research UK, where it will be used to fund research which saves lives.

Shine London involved 10,000 people dressed in luminescent clothes and carrying torches, lights and balloons taking to the streets in an inspirational procession, starting at the O2 and passing famous landmarks such as Westminster and Buckingham Palace.

Walkers were able to choose between a full or half marathon route. Participants also had the opportunity to raise funds for a specific area of cancer research including breast cancer, lung cancer and leukaemia.

The event symbolises the light that Cancer Research UK's doctors, nurses and scientists bring to the lives of people affected by cancer through life-saving research.

Joff Charters, Cancer Research UK's Shine Event Manager, said: "Shine London was a fantastic event. 10,000 walkers created an amazing atmosphere on the night. Looking at all the 'back signs' worn by participants declaring why they are taking part was a very emotional experience. Many were cancer survivors themselves or were taking part in tribute to their loved ones whose lives have been touched by the disease. Together they created a vibrant beacon of hope in the city."

Cancer survival rates have doubled since the 1970s and Cancer Research UK's work has been at the heart of that progress.

Research is expensive so Cancer Research UK needs the people of London to help raise £1.4 million from Shine to support it.

Joff added: "We realise that our walkers have already come a very long way but we are asking them to take just one final step – by returning the money they have raised so that we can go on funding much needed research."

For more information on how to return your sponsorship money please visit: www.cancerresearchuk.org/shine

Make It Count!

There are three ways to return sponsorship money:

- By post. Send a cheque, payable to "Cancer Research UK", to Shine, PO Box 1533, Cancer Research UK, OXFORD OX4 9FQ
- By phone by calling 0871 641 1430
- Or you can make a donation online at www.cancerresearchuk.org/shine

Blackheath calls Cartel

THE Carl Picton Cartel are playing a show at Blackheath Halls this Saturday, November 12. Carl's rootsy rock band was a big hit at the Summer Sessions earlier this year and is building a real following around the area through tireless gigging. There are four other bands on the bill, and the night kicks off at 8pm. Tickets £10. To book visit www.trinitylaban.ac.uk/blackheath-halls or call the box office on 020 8463 0100. More info about the Cartel at www.carlpictoncartel.net

Cadets' big awards bash

THE Woolwich Cadet Unit is honouring its members with awards on Friday, November 25 from 7pm onwards at Slade Hall in Plumstead. Members range from 10-18 years old and are taught by the St John Ambulance. They teach the youngsters first aid skills and other life skills. Those who achieved their Grand Prior Awards by completing the necessary 24 subjects have managed to practise those skills in everyday life. Liz George, Unit Leader of the Plumstead section told Scene: "A few of the crew have shadowed doctors in hospitals, helped in the London Marathon, worked in hospices in the borough and even gained confidence through the cadets to overcome bullying." Liz added: "They've learned the skills to use radios and defibrillators, write formal letters, CVs and application form filling. These are all skills that would bode them well in their adult life."

PUT ME IN THE PICTURE: artist Steve Chantrell

AN artist who loves nothing more than messing about on the river has a new body of work on display in Greenwich town centre. Steve Chantrell is a keen sailor and a member of Greenwich Yacht Club, so it's perhaps no surprise that many of his paintings have a nautical bent. "I'm on the river a lot of the time and it is a great source of inspiration," he said. "A lot of my paintings are about the local area. The tidal Thames is what I'm most interested in. The Dome also features quite often."

Embracing the changing landscape of the river is something that Steve's idols in the Modernist movement would surely have approved. "The big influences for me are Henri Matisse and the Colourists," he said. "I'm into expressionism, and the post-expressionists like Gauguin. It's odd to think that the movement is 100 years old, but Cezanne and Matisse are still very modern. I'm sure they would have been interested in painting things like the Dome - it's a awkward thing to paint with all those spikes, but any structure with a powerful image would have interested them."

His exhibition is on at the Tourist Information Centre in the grounds of the Old Royal Naval College for the whole of November. The subjects are a mixture of the ancient and the modern. "In this one [View from Greenwich Park] you've got the park, you've got the naval college and you've also got the Gherkin and Canary Wharf. It's inevitable that I would be a mixture of the old and the new because I'm also interested in duration. "What's interesting about painting is the freedom it can express. You can have the past, the present and the future in one go. The Dome is the present, the naval college is the past and the painter's reaction to it - the emotion, comes out in the colour and the light." Steve's favoured medium is watercolour, though a couple of the 25 pieces on display are oil paintings. "All my pictures are done instantaneously on the spot. They are my reactions to different situations."

Rod Kitson

Steve's work is on display at the Tourist Information Centre until December 3. Open daily from 10am-5pm. Entry is free.

MOVEMENT IN THE TREES: Out from Dingly Dell by Terry Scales

...HEAD a little further East and there are more Greenwich brush-smiths plying their trade. Terry Scales and Cristiana Angelini are holding an exhibition of British landscapes at the Paul McPherson Gallery on Lassell Street from November 14. The paintings were created on location in destinations as far-flung as Shoreham in Kent and the Highlands of Scotland.

Terry is renowned for his paintings of the Thames, while Cristiana enjoys an international reputation through her association with the Bridgeman Art Library. She will also be showing a small group of still lifes. The gallery's home of East Greenwich is not neglected in the collection however, for Terry could not resist including one of his favourite scenes of Pipers Wharf.

Paul McPherson Gallery, 77 Lassell Street SE10 9PG. Nov 14-26, Mon - Fri 11am - 5.30pm Saturdays 10.30am-3pm. Meet the artists day November 19 10.30 - 3pm

No Shappi ending

Comedienne Shappi Khorsandi failed to light up any part of a half-empty Blackheath Halls, writes Dick Morgan

STAND-UP comedians are not short on courage. With no props to hide behind, they must engage with their audience, deliver with aplomb and close with panache. All of which Shappi Khorsandi seemed to forget on the latest leg of her UK tour, My Brother and Me in our Pants, Holding Hands, at the Blackheath Halls. We were shown two different women and frankly, both of them fell flat. Playing to a disappointingly low turnout, Shappi divided her show into two, unequal parts with the raw, inexperienced, "Bad Shappi" up first. "I can't afford a support act so I do it myself," she whined. The warmer, professional, "Good Shappi" came later. It didn't start well. "Hello Blackheath" is as unoriginal as first lines come. Her material was limited to working the front row. Unfortunately for Shappi, there was little to work with: an elderly couple, a family of farmers and an Iranian family reluctantly moved up to front, while telling their daughter that

"GCSEs don't really matter". Sadly, her interactions lacked sparkle, her delivery was disjointed and it was only her charisma that got us through to the break, barely thirty minutes through. Refreshed from our drinks, we returned ever hopeful, eager to re-discover the talented comedienne who hosts her own show (Shappi Talk on Radio 4) and who has penned a new novel, A Beginners Guide to Acting English. Shappi's at her best when she speaks from the heart: the death threats to her father stating that the children will not be harmed - "How sweet is that?"; the divorce from her partner - "I've forgotten how to date," and the rearing of a toddler whom, she rages, "simply can't colour neatly". Ultimately however, she was poor, no amount of personality could disguise the flaws. There was no connection with her audience, nor freshness in her material. And to be honest, her relationship with her brother is not unusual in any way, so the over-indulgence in the personal (there are only so many toddler stories one can take), only succeeded in breaking any flow that threatened to develop. If Shappi is to last, then she clearly needs to grow, rediscover why she stands there and reinvent just what she says. Judging by this performance she has developed little past the enclosed world of her youth that she is so fond of indulging.

Greenwich Council's Choice Based Lettings Scheme

Edition 261

How the lettings policy works

Housing applicants are placed within 'Bands' according to the Council's policy for letting homes. Your band information is on the letter that the Council sent you when you registered, or when your circumstances changed.

Property adverts say which band can apply and any other criteria. When all the bids are received, the property is then offered to:

For properties advertised for band A and band B - the applicant who has had this priority status for the longest time.
For properties advertised for band C applicants - the applicant who has been registered on the Council's list for the longest time.

Band

- A is for applicants in unsatisfactory housing, including people moving due to demolition and those underoccupying their homes.
- B is for applicants the council must prioritise according to the law, particularly homeless people, and others with an urgent need to move for medical or welfare reasons.
- C is for all applicants on the housing register, including those that are in priority bands A and B.

How do I apply?

1 Get on the list

First, you've got to be on the housing waiting list to join the scheme. If you're not, get an application form by phoning the Access and Allocations Section on 020 8921 2941. Or pick up a form from any neighbourhood office.

2 Find your applicant number

It will be on the letter you've already had from the Council about the new scheme. You'll need that number and the reference number of the property you're after, which will be on the advert.

3 Pick out your ideal property

by looking in Greenwich Time or regularly checking the website:

www.greenwich.gov.uk/homes

Click on your preference on the website. If you don't have a computer, you can always use one for free in either your neighbourhood housing office, library or UK Online centre.

4 Apply in one of two ways

- Phone the 24-hour hotline 020 8921 4340. It's an automatic push-button system and calls will be charged at the normal local rate, or
- Via the Council's website

LONDON BOROUGH OF GREENWICH ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 – SECTION 14(1) TEMPORARY POINT CLOSURES – FARJEON ROAD AND REPOSITORY ROAD

1. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Greenwich Borough Council intends to make an Order to accommodate electricity supply works in Farjeon Road and Repository Road. The effect of the Order would be to temporarily:
 - (a) prohibit vehicles from entering Repository Road via Charlton Park Lane, Ha Ha Road and Stadium Road;
 - (b) prohibit vehicles from entering Shooters Hill Road via Farjeon Road; and
 - (c) as and when required, prohibit vehicles from entering or proceeding in that length of Farjeon Road that lies north of Merriam Road (vehicular access to properties affected by these works would be maintained whenever possible subject to the extent and operations of the works).
2. The above restrictions would only apply at such times and to such extent as shall be indicated by the placing of the appropriate traffic signs.
3. Whilst the restrictions referred to in paragraph 1 above are in operation, the alternative route for traffic affected by the prohibition of entry:
 - (a) from Farjeon Road into Shooters Hill Road would be via Merriam Road, Weyman Road and Shooters Hill Road; and
 - (b) from Charlton Park Lane / Ha Ha Road / Stadium Road into Repository Road would be via Ha Ha Road, Grand Depot Road and Artillery Road or via Cemetery Lane, Little Heath and Hillbrook.
4. The Order would come into force on 22nd November 2011 and would continue in force for up to 18 months, or until the works have been completed, whichever is the sooner. However, it is expected that the Farjeon Road works would commence on 22nd November 2011 and continue for one week, and the Repository Road works would commence on 29th November 2011 and continue also for one week.
5. Queries concerning these works should be directed to Greenwich Council's Directorate of Regeneration, Enterprise & Skills on 020 8921 5474.

Greenwich Council Proposed Enlargement and Increase in the Planned Admission Number of Heronsgate Primary School, a Maintained Community School

Notice is given in accordance with section 19(1) of the Education and Inspections Act 2006, that Greenwich Council intends to make a prescribed alteration to Heronsgate Primary School, Winchat Road, Thamesmead, London SE18 8DW, a maintained community school, with effect from 01 September 2012.

It is proposed to expand the school by the provision of an additional site and accommodation in Burrage Grove, Woolwich, London SE18 7LJ and an increase in the planned admission number for each year group aged 4-11 from 90 places currently, to 120 places with effect from September 2012. The admission number of the school will increase permanently to 120 for the Reception Year and Year 1 in 2012/13, for Year 2 in 2013/14, and so on until 2017/18, when the admission number for all year groups will be 120.

The admission capacity of the school for children aged 4-11 is currently 430 places and the proposed capacity will be 840 places. There are 584 pupils aged 4-11 currently registered at the school.

The proposals, if agreed, will be implemented by the Council.

This Notice is an extract from the complete proposal and is published following consultations with interested parties in the areas served by the school in October 2011. Copies of the complete proposal can be obtained from the Headteacher, by email request to sarah.mistry@greenwich.gov.uk or by telephone on 0208 921 4782.

Within four weeks from the date of publication of these proposals, any person may object to or make comments on the proposals by letter or email to:

Explanatory Notes

1. Within two months after the end of the representation period, Greenwich Council will consider all the representations made within the representation period and the Governors' comment on them and will determine the proposal.
2. The additional site and accommodation for the school is the site and former school building which is currently used for adult education classes by Greenwich Community College on Burrage Grove, Woolwich SE18 7LJ and which is being refurbished for use as a primary school. This will now be known as Heronsgate Primary School, Royal Arsenal Campus.
3. The admissions arrangements for Heronsgate Primary School will remain the same and the school will operate as one school on two sites with the same identity, management, ethos, standards and resources. It will be for the governors and management of the school to decide how the school is organised across the two sites.
4. The governors of the school agreed to a temporary increase from 90 to 120 to the planned admission number for the September 2011 Reception Class intake and this proposal is seeking to make the changes permanent.

Greenwich Council Proposed Enlargement and Increase in the Planned Admission Number of Invicta Primary School, a Maintained Community School

Notice is given in accordance with section 19(1) of the Education and Inspections Act 2006 that Greenwich Council intends to make a prescribed alteration to Invicta Primary School, Invicta Road, London, SE3 7HE, a maintained community school, with effect from 01 September 2012.

It is proposed to expand the school by the enlargement of the accommodation and an increase in the planned admission number for each year group aged 4-11 from 30 places currently, to 60 places permanently with effect from the 2012/13 school year intake. The admission number will be 60 for the Reception Year and Year 1 in 2012/13, 60 for Year 2 in 2013/14, and so on until 2017/18 when the admission number for all year groups will be 60.

The admission capacity of the school for children aged 4-11 is currently 216 places and the proposed capacity will be 420 places. There are 213 pupils aged 4-11 currently registered at the school.

The proposal, if agreed, will be implemented by the Council.

This Notice is an extract from the complete proposal and is published following consultations with interested parties in the areas served by the school in October 2011. GETTING READY FOR ACTION.
wheelchair rugby star Andy Barrow is gearing up for this third Paralympic Games

"They operate to see if there's anything they can do with your spinal cord. Either way, there's a long period of rehab. A catastrophic injury is life-changing."

Andy started playing for fun in January, 1998. "Then it got a bit more serious. I played for the London Wheelchair Rugby Club and still do," he said. "Someone asked me to have a go for the GB team. I did okay but just missed out on the Sydney Paralympics. I've been a member of every squad since then."

"It's a great sport and enabled me to do a lot of stuff. I've been round the world playing and I've had a great time doing it. It's a job as well. I'm very proud to have represented my country. We're funded by UK Sport and I'm lucky to be a full-time athlete. I'm very aware that we're funded with taxpayers' money and as such I believe we should be accountable."

Being captain has had its extra responsibilities. Andy said: "It is much more of an off-court thing, balancing the team, including the egos in the team. We haven't got a Balotelli, but it's still not easy to build the trust you need to form a winning culture! It's easy to get a good team, but one that can go on and win medals is a different matter."

"We've won gold at the Euro Championships three times and were fourth at Worlds and Paralympics. However, we haven't got a medal on the world stage yet, which is our biggest bugbear. Top opponents in 2012 will be the USA. They are the best team in the world hands down and have been for 20 years."

Next best are Australia, who also have the best player in the world "by a mile". His name is Ryley Batt and Andy calls him a phenomenon: "He's missing both legs well above the knee and his hands are only partially formed, but crucially, he can use his whole trunk and torso, making him very fast and very agile."

"Our current world ranking is fifth but we're confident we can get a medal in London. We've just got hold of a lad called Aaron Phipps, who's a class 3.5 and will be one of our players to watch."

In Greenwich we'll also have our eyes on Andy and cheering him on. In fact, you can get involved straight away by following him on Twitter – www.twitter.com/@andybarrow2012 and a forthcoming blog at GT.

Andy's life will change again next year when he and Alison get married after the Games, in December. He could also be thinking of what to do when his sporting days are over, maybe working with young disabled athletes in Greenwich and doing some motivational speaking.

He should be good at that.

HAIR STYLE HOTSEAT: Zoe enjoys some pampering courtesy of Beyond the Fringe

Fringe benefits

OLYMPIC hopeful Zoe Smith got a lift of a different kind when she was made-up ahead of the British Olympic Ball.

The 17-year-old weightlifting sensation hasn't forgotten her roots – she was filmed by the BBC as she got made-up at Woolwich salon Beyond the Fringe before the bash attended by Sir Steve Redgrave and HRH Princess Anne. BBC London was filming a behind-the-scenes look at the life of the aspiring Olympian, and the time-out was a welcome break from her hectic schedule as she bids for a place in the 2012 Great Britain team.

At her first senior international competition in October 2010, the Abbey Wood athlete won a bronze medal in the women's 58kg division at the 2010 Commonwealth Games in Delhi, India, becoming the first Englishwoman to win a Commonwealth Games weightlifting medal.

Zoe said: "It's great to take some time out from training to be pampered and the staff are wonderful and supportive." Salon owner Bill McTurk added: "Zoe is a huge inspiration for young people in the area and we wish her all the best for the Olympics next year."

LONDON BOROUGH OF GREENWICH ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 – SECTION 14(1) VARIOUS ROADS – TEMPORARY PROHIBITIONS AND RESTRICTIONS OF TRAFFIC

- NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Greenwich Borough Council has made an Order to accommodate carriageway resurfacing works in certain lengths of Blackwall Lane (A220), Carlyle Road (A2041), Court Road (A206), Trafalgar Road (A206) and Woolwich Church Street (A206). The effect of the Order will be to prohibit vehicles from entering, exiting, proceeding or waiting (including waiting for the purposes of loading or unloading) in certain lengths of the above-mentioned roads. Parking suspensions may also be imposed. The following side road junctions will be closed or restricted as the resurfacing works progress along the above-mentioned roads:
 - Court Road side road: Eltham Palace access road, Middle Park Avenue, Royal Blackheath Golf Club access road, Tarnwood Park (both junctions) and Woodmerry;
 - Trafalgar Road side road: Armitage Road, Blackwell Lane, Christchurch Way, Colville Street (both junctions), Commercial Place, Earlswood Street, Eastney Street, Greenwich Park Street (both junctions), Hatfield Street, Hoskins Street, King William Lane, Lassell Street, Maze Hill, Mill Street, Park Row (both junctions), Redmore Street, Trafalgar Grove, Tyler Street, Vanbrugh Hill, Whiteworth Street and Woodland Crescent; and
 - Woolwich Church Street side road: Frances Street, Mast Quay access road, Port Street, Prospect Vale and Tamar Street.
- The works will be conducted on a "rolling" programme and, as such, not all the restrictions referred to in paragraph 1 of this Notice will be in force in all the affected roads at any one time. Vehicular access to properties affected by these works will be maintained wherever possible subject to the extent and operations of the works.
- The restrictions and suspensions in the above roads will only apply at such times and to such extent as shall be indicated by the placing of the appropriate traffic signs.
- Whilst the restrictions referred to in paragraph 1 of this Notice are in operation, the alternative route for traffic affected by:
 - the Trafalgar Road / Vanbrugh Hill junction closure will be via Westcombe Park Road and Maze Hill, and vice versa;
 - the Court Road / Middle Park Avenue junction closure will be via Kingsground, Eltham Hill and Eltham High Street, and vice versa; and
 - all other restrictions referred to in paragraph 1 of this Notice that will necessitate a diversion will be via local roads and vehicles should follow local diversionary signage.
- The Order will come into force on 14th November 2011 and will continue in force for up to 18 months, or until the works have been completed, whichever is the sooner. However, it is expected that the entire works programme will take approximately five months to complete.
- Queries concerning these works should be directed to Greenwich Council's Directorate of Regeneration, Enterprise & Skills on 020 8921 3458.

Planning for 2012 - and a medal on the world stage

That's Andy!

by Peter Cordwell

ANDY Barrow wouldn't change a thing - even if he could.

Fifteen years ago, aged 17, he broke his neck playing rugby for Charlton Park RFC, leaving him paralysed from the chest down with limited use of his hands.

It was this "catastrophic injury" that led him to play for the Great Britain wheelchair rugby team at the last two Paralympic Games, including captaining the side in Beijing three years ago.

Andy, who lives in Lee with his fiancée Alison - a volunteer 2012 Games Maker herself - told GT: "I firmly believe in life that you play the hand you're dealt, and I wouldn't take it back. If someone had come to me the night before I was injured and said: 'Look, you're going to break your neck tomorrow, it's going to be bad but it will lead to all these things happening in your life', I don't think I would have changed it."

"You know, I am comfortable with my disability and I'm happy with my life."

That happiness - built on a determination that Andy doesn't even hint at in conversation - will be trebled if, as expected, he makes the GB team to play in front of a 12,000 crowd at the Basketball Arena in Olympic Park.

"The Paralympics are amazing and I'm always telling people how fantastic they are going to be next year in our home city," he said. "It will be a massive honour for the 300 people in Team GB."

"There will be a squad of up to twelve in the wheelchair rugby team and I like to think I will be in it. But it's by no means certain. You just have to keep playing and training well."

Matches are played on a basketball court and wheelchair rugby players are classified according to functionality from 0.5 (having the least function) to 3.5 (having the most). Teams of four players can have a maximum of eight points.

"I'm a 2.0 player," said Andy, 32, "so there could be four at my level. We have rolling substitutions so it's quite tactical, using different players at different times in the match."

The twelve-man GB squad won't be picked until well into next year, but silver medals from the recent European championships in Switzerland suggest the squad is unlikely to see great changes. "I wanted to get gold but we were happy with silver," said Andy. "We blooded a few new players, which is important. We've won gold in Europe in the past but badly want to win medals on the world stage."

"I was captain between 2005 and 2010, including Beijing, but now I'm concentrating on my own game. As it is, I've been to two Paralympic Games, five European Championships and three World Championships, an unbroken run since 2002."

Andy first heard about wheelchair rugby after going through extensive rehab at the Royal National Orthopaedic Hospital in Stanmore.
